At first, this system was the perfect equilibrium between opposing forces, but it ended up breaking down due to the collapse of government and industry. Some of the elite were still able to survive by using the resources of their estates and gradually built a society in a certain place they call “The Lands Between”. The people that were able to survive this rigorous cycle of life in the ruins can now live as if this were heaven. That is, the people that were able to survive this era now live as if this was heaven. The environment is dark and gloomy, but for the rare woman that lives here, it is a veritable paradise. The people that live here are hardy, overly powerful, and easy to control. As a result, those without natural talent at all are considered “monsters” by the general population. The people that live here live in a state of denial and work hard. They live hidden behind a facade of strength, and they fulfill the expectations of the country and society that values them. □New Fantasy Action RPG□ is a brand new action RPG that takes place in the “The Lands Between” in which players can customize their characters, explore a vast world, and meet other people in a free and asynchronous online system. --- Warnings: • This game contains content unsuitable for young children. • Parents strongly advised to monitor the game for personal offence. • Do not buy the game if you find any content inappropriate. • Please read the game content description and refer to the ESRB rating guide for this game. • The staff and creator of the game are not responsible for any outcome of purchase of this
